HISTORY

Phoon Chi Ho has built a reputation as one of Malaysia's top comedy performers, much sought after for corporate events. One of the pioneers of Kuala Lumpur's underground comedy scene and a prominent member of the Douglas Lim's Malaysian Association of Chinese Comedians, he has shared the stage with comedy greats like Dara O' Briain (IRL), Ed Byrne (IRL) Gina Yashere (UK), Harith Iskander and Afdlin Shauki, just to name a few. On TV, he has appeared on Astro's Cakap Melayu Lah, Komediri, Sedapnya Mulut and was one of the first Asian comedians to be curated by Comedy Central Asia for Stand Up, Asia! On the silver screen, he recently bagged a supporting role, in Lari Hantu... Lari! by the legendary Mamat Khalid. As a scriptwriter, he wrote 3 sitcoms - Small Mission Enterprise, Oh My English! and, more recently, Club Mickey Mouse. Outside of comedy, Chi Ho has written, directed and acted in countless local as well as international commercials across all media platforms.

BYBLOWTIPS ACCOUNTS:

"If comedy was a crime, Phoon Chi Ho would be a serial killer. Edgy. Dangerous. Funny."

Harith Iskander, Malaysia's Godfather of Comedy

"Phoon(...) took only seconds to draw the first echoes of laughter..."

The Star News

"What I enjoy about Chi Ho's act is that he is original, completely unpretentious, and a fresh breath of air for the local comedy scene."

Datin Tiara Jacquelina, highly influential arts advocate

"The crowd ate from the palm of his hands..."

Time Out KL

"Phoon Chi Ho is one of the most tenacious comedians I have seen!"

Douglas Lim, Malaysia's King of Comedy
